

Tesco IMS Technology - Cyber Security Graduate Scheme

Tesco UK · Edinburgh · Temporary · Apply by 22-Dec-2026

About the role

Our Cyber Security team uses modern technologies to enhance the visibility and protection of our systems, services, and data. Over this two-year graduate scheme, you'll apply your technical skills to help safeguard our organisation while developing expertise in incident response, security platforms, and cyber assurance. You'll also gain experience working across our wider technology teams, giving you a clear understanding of how everything fits together. To help you get off to the best start, you'll spend time supporting our customers directly as part of our Customer Service team.

Salary: £34,000

Programme start date: 6 September 2027

Office Attendance - Our roles are hybrid; however, you should be able to travel to our office, 2 days per week for this position.

What is in it for you

- Prepare for your retirement with our colleague pension scheme.
- Virtual GP Service for you and your family 365 days a year.
- Performance related annual bonus.
- Indulge in a generous holiday allowance with a minimum of 7.2 weeks, with the opportunity to buy more.
- Embrace the benefits of our Colleague Clubcard, enjoy a 10% discount that increase to 15% every payday. As an added perk, we'll give you a second card to share with someone else.
- Benefit from our family-oriented initiatives, encompassing enhanced maternity leave pay, a shared parental leave policy, and a generous 8-week paid paternity leave.
- A place to get on - take advantage of our ongoing learning opportunities and award-winning training, to help you achieve the job and career you want.

You will be responsible for

- Drive and deliver on our security strategy and operational activities to help protect Tesco Insurance and Money Services
- Solve large-scale challenges to protect colleagues, customers, and our business.

You will need

This section is here to help you get a feel for what each scheme is about and what might suit you best. Don't worry if you don't have all the skills listed - we don't expect you to. We're looking for potential, curiosity, and a willingness to learn. We'll support you to build the rest

- Problem solving is a big part of this area - enjoying problem solving or spotting risks can be useful
- Things move fast, so being adaptable and open to learning is helpful
- We value people who are curious about how things work and how to keep them safe
- You don't need a tech background - just an interest in working with others to find solutions.

About us

At Tesco Insurance and Money Services, we help customers protect the things that matter most. From pet insurance for your best friend and home insurance for peace of mind, to motor insurance for your dream car, our products are there when people need them most. You'll join a business with a real sense of purpose. Whether your interests lie in Technology or Customer Operations, you'll have the opportunity to make an impact from day one. We'll support you every step of the way with structured development, hands-on learning and a network of colleagues invested in your success. We value fresh thinking and new ideas, so you'll be encouraged to share your perspective, challenge the norm and help shape the future of our business. Most importantly, the work you do will make a genuine difference to our customers, especially when they need us most.
